Everyday life information

BEFORE LEAVING

MONEY

The most practical solution is to open a French bank account in Lyon. The International Office can advise you in such matters upon your arrival. In the meantime, please ensure you have enough money for necessary purchases. A small amount of cash and a credit card or traveller's cheques should do the job.

- Magnetic cards are rarely used in France. In general the French system uses chip credit cards (cartes à puce).
- For International money transfers to your French bank account, please do not forget to ask your home bank for your IBAN (International Bank Account Number).

SECURITY / FLIGHT TO LYON / WHEN TO ARRIVE?

Please take great care of your luggage and other personal belongings when travelling and when arriving at Lyon Airport.

Before booking your flight, please take the following into account:

- The Academic Calendar (available for download on the website in June)

It gives you details about when the academic year starts, including when compulsory information days are scheduled, the dates of orientation classes held by the Association Lyon III International and when university classes begin.

the availability of your accommodation

If you have chosen to have accommodation through the Association Lyon III International, you should contact: logementri@univ-lyon3.fr

It is better to arrive in France a few days before the beginning of term, so you have time to settle.

→ Avoid arriving in Lyon on the weekend or after 4 pm because the university offices and the student residences are closed.

If you are to arrive after the opening hours \(university and student residences\), you can find a list of hotels on page 8, provided for information purposes only.

A final piece of advice....

When travelling, please remember to keep an eye on your personal belongings and all your official documents and keep a photocopy of each.

It is also advisable to keep a list of the phone numbers and email addresses of people to be contacted in case of emergency.

Please do not hesitate to contact the International office if you have a problem.

ACCOMMODATION ON THE FIRST NIGHT

Be careful!!

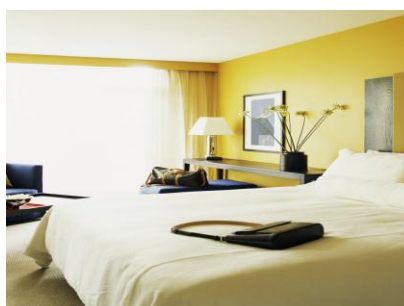

The Halls of residence are closed after 3.30 pm (on the week-end and public holidays (see page 20)

- You have pre-booked your accommodation and you arrive at the International Office before 3.30 pm: see the person in charge of the accommodation who will give you all the information you need regarding your student residence as well as all the necessary documentation thus allowing you entry to your accommodation the same evening.

However you might have to wait for a while. Exchange students arrive at the same time and each student wishes to enter their accommodation as quickly as possible. We understand that travelling is tiring, but we ask you to bear with us as we try to provide the same warm welcome to all students.

- Some accommodation leases begin on the first of the month. If you arrive towards the end of the preceding month, you will probably have to stay in a youth hostel or a hotel for a couple of nights.

- If you have not pre-booked your accommodation or if you arrive after 3.30 pm: here is a sample list of hotels and youth hostels where you can stay for the first few nights.

BOOKING YOUR ACCOMMODATION

Lyon is a very large city and finding accommodation can sometimes be difficult. The International office at the university can help you thanks to its housing office, which is part of the Lyon III International Association. Therefore, if you wish, it is possible to get accommodation either in a private residence or with a host family. You may also be able to find accommodation with the CROUS (Warning! Few places available !)

Please, note that there is no on-campus accommodation. University housing is located all over the city.

Neither our university nor the Lyon III International Association own any accommodation and decline all responsibility as for the price of rent, the extra costs or the the room inspection.

The Lyon III International Association is the link between the students and the Halls of residences. It is in permanent contact with the residences and helps all exchange students in need of housing assistance.

Detailed information on each private residence is available on the website:

<http://associnterlyon3.univ-lyon3.fr/logement/aide-trouver-logement/redicence-privee/fr/>

It is essential that you read this information carefully so you know exactly how much you will have to pay upon arrival and so that you are aware of the formalities that you may have to carry out (for example: opening up a personal account with GDF – Gaz de France).

It is also essential that you fill in the form on the Association's website.

Your enrolment will only be confirmed once you have paid the Association:

- 10 euros (membership fee)
- 20 euros (administrative fee)
- 305 euros (reservation fee): this sum will either be paid back to the student or to the residence and taken off one month's rent or paid back directly (see the residence descriptions). For the CROUS, if the room remains vacant the sum will not be refunded to the student.

Housing office: (email : logementri@univ-lyon3.fr) will only take your accommodation request into account after receipt of payment.

Glossary

Frais de dossier = administrative fees: Be aware that each residence works differently and has the right to ask for « administrative fees ». These fees vary according to the residence. They cover the administrative running of the residence, the room inspections done upon arrival and on departure and the repairs carried out in communal areas etc.

Caution = deposit: It is a sum that generally corresponds to about two month 's rent and must be paid to the landlord before moving in. It is given back to the student two months after the room inspection done on departure, as long as the inventory is correct. This deposit is not the same as the 305 euros paid to the Association in order to reserve the accommodation.

Etat des lieux = obligatory room inspection: This is the detailed inventory (crockery, furniture, etc) drawn up between you and the landlord or his/her representative at the residence. It must be as accurate as possible in order to avoid any dispute at the end of the tenancy. It must be carried out both upon arrival at the residence and on departure.

Taxe d'habitation = council tax: In France, council tax is imposable on anyone whose name appears on the lease from 1^{er} January of each year. This tax is not always included in the residence's administrative fees. Students receive a bill once they have returned to their home countries. The amount is approximately equal to one month's rent.

Allocation logement = housing benefit:

Every student in France can ask for housing benefit from the Caisse d'Allocations Familiales (CAFAL – 67 Boulevard Vivier Merle 69409 Lyon). You can apply whether you are a European student or a non-European exchange student with a residence permit.

You can only request housing benefit once you have signed the lease and obtained your residence permit. The words “carte de séjour à solliciter dès l'arrivée” (residence permit to be applied upon arrival) must appear on your visa and not “dispense temporaire de carte de séjour” (temporarily exempt from residence permit). In the latter case, you will not be able to apply for your residence permit and so will not be able to apply for housing benefit.

<http://www.caf.fr/wps/portal/votrecaf/69>

Assurance habitation = housing insurance:

This insurance is compulsory in France. You must therefore purchase housing insurance upon arrival in order to be able to move into your accommodation. Those in charge of Housing will tell you how to do so. In general it also covers the civil liability insurance that you need in order to register at the university.

Assurance responsabilité civile = Civil liability insurance: This insurance covers damage you might cause to another person, or to another person's property. This insurance is compulsory for students wishing to practice sports. All international exchange students should provide proof of civil liability insurance upon arrival in order to register at the university.
