

SELF PROGRAM 2021/2022

Powerful Presentations

Timothy Avison

Course information:

Number of credits: 6 credits

Contact hours: 30 hours

Hours taught per week: 3 hours

Teaching period: Fall 2021

Course description:

This course aims to build on the international diversity of students at SELF to better understand multicultural exchanges in the business world.

Communication theory will be analysed and presentation skills will be developed through regular group/individual presentation practice.

This course looks at the various aspects of preparing and delivering successful presentations and involves students in experimenting with the various techniques and critique of presentation styles used in Dragons' Den, Sharks Tank and Ted Talks. Through the analysis of the difficulties faced by non-native English speakers students learn to adapt their presentation style and language use to different audiences.

A final written examination is organized covering a selection of the matters taught in class and marked to provide an overall average with the mark for the individual and group presentations.

Course breakdown:

Week 1: Basic communication theory + Rhetorical analysis

Week 2 : The Start + the Finish

Week 3 : Visual aids - Death by ppt

Week 4: Jump start + Finish with a Bang

Week 5 : Fear of Public Speaking

Week 6 : Powerful techniques + Signposting

Week 7 : Non-verbal communication

Week 8 : Dealing with Questions

Week 9 : Presenting with Style

Week 10 : Course debrief + exam

Prerequisites:

None (suitable for native and non-native English speakers).

Assessment:

Oral presentation and written examination

Attendance:

In order to participate, students must be present. Nevertheless, a maximum of 2 (two) unexcused absences will be allowed otherwise no mark will be given.

An unexcused absence at a test (final test or continuous assessment) means no credits for the course.